

A fine turns to cell time at court

BRONX COURT OFFICERS had one word yesterday for this guy: Duh!

Gary Myers, 25, wound up arrested for possession of a gun Tuesday when he came to Bronx Criminal Court to pay a fine for possession of marijuana.

When he put his backpack on the X-ray machine for inspection, Criminal Court Officer Angel Rosado immediately saw a gun on his screen and called over Officer Robert Fernandez, who pulled a loaded .380-caliber semi-automatic pistol from the bag.

Corrections Capt. Bryan Negrón said he couldn't believe that someone would try to enter the courthouse with a gun.

"I have to admit, I was very surprised," he said.
